G. Comply with all other duties and functions specified in the Medical Staff Bylaws and its appendices.

Section Chiefs shall be appointed by the Chief of Service and be members in good standing of the active medical staff of Loma Linda University Medical Center as well as full-time geographic faculty of the Loma Linda University School of Medicine. The duties of the section chiefs are as follows:

A. Serve as alternates on Medical Staff committees as required by Medical Staff By-laws when the Chief of Service is absent.

B. Represent their subspecialty section at department meetings and quality improvement conferences.

C. Assist the Chief of Service in review of applicants for privileges on the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service.
IV. COMMITTEES:

A. Gynecology and Obstetrics Executive Committee:

1. Chairman:

   The Gynecology and Obstetrics Executive Committee shall be chaired by the Chief of Service.

2. Membership:

   Members of the Gynecology and Obstetrics Executive Committee shall be appointed by the Chief of Service and shall serve for indefinite periods of time at the pleasure of the Chief of Service. The number of members may vary from time to time. The committee shall consist of representatives of the various subspecialties having clinical privileges on the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service.

3. Function:

   a. Review and act upon the credentials of new applicants and those being reappointed to the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service with specific regard to the Delineation of Privileges.

   b. Review and act upon the recommendations of the sections with regard to the proctoring of members on the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service.

   c. Recommend to members of the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service policies, rules and regulations it deems appropriate.

   d. Assist the Chief of Service in his administrative activities as he directs.

B. Quality Improvement Committee:

1. Chairman:

   The Gynecology and Obstetrics Quality Improvement Committee shall be chaired by members of the service appointed by the Chief of Service. The committee chairs (one for Gynecology and one for Obstetrics) shall be responsible for the ongoing quality improvement activities of the service.

2. Membership:
The committee shall have as members individuals representing those subspecialties currently having active members on the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service. The members shall be appointed by the Chief of Service on the recommendation of the chairmen of the committee.

3. Function:
   a. In conjunction with the Medical Staff Quality Improvement Committee the Service committee will review selected aspects of care on the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service with the goal of achieving continuing quality improvement.
   b. The committee will present recommendations to the Chief of Service for changes in policies, procedures and regulations that are intended to improve the quality of care on the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service.
   c. The committee will present to the entire Gynecology and Obstetrics Service the results of its monitoring activities.
   d. The committee will arrange for the presentations of continuing educational programs in response to its quality improvement activities.

I. POLICIES:

   Rules and regulations governing the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service will be developed as policies. Policies will be approved by the Gynecology and Obstetrics Executive Committee and be submitted to the Medical Staff Executive Committee. These policies will be reviewed annually.

II. GYNECOLOGY AND OBSTETRICS SERVICE PRIVILEGES:

   A. General:

      Members of the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service shall be granted obstetrical and surgical privileges consistent with their ability. Education and experience are the major indicators of ability. Some privileges may require specific observation by a peer to evaluate competency.

   B. Specific:

      1. CATEGORY I PRIVILEGES:
These privileges involve the care of low-risk obstetrical patients only. Physicians presenting evidence of having successfully completed an approved residency training program in Family Practice (Family Medicine) are presumed to have gained initial competence in the management of these cases. Proctoring specific to these privileges is required.

2. CATEGORY II PRIVILEGES:

These privileges involve the care of patients with problems other than those specified in Category III. Physicians presenting evidence of having successfully completed an approved residency training program in Gynecology and Obstetrics are presumed to have gained initial competence in the management of these cases. The general initial proctoring requirement applies to and validates these privileges. Proctoring specific to these privileges is not required.

3. CATEGORY III PRIVILEGES:

These privileges involve the care of patients requiring treatment or surgery of such severity or complexity that the management is frequently provided by those physicians who have undergone subspecialty fellowship training. Specific granting of privileges is required at the time of initial application and reapplication. Proctoring specific to the area of privileges requested is required at the time of initial application.

Category II and III privileges also involve the granting of administrative responsibilities. The supervision of residents requires endorsement by the Residency Program Director for the Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics as well as by the Chief of Service. The supervision of medical students requires endorsement by the Chairman of the Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics of the Loma Linda University School of Medicine.

VII. PROCTORING:

All initial appointments to the Gynecology and Obstetrics Service are contingent upon the applicant demonstrating to his peers that he has the capability to provide the evaluation and management services required by his patients. This involves, but is not limited to, obtaining an appropriate history and physical examination, the ability to originate appropriate diagnostic and therapeutic orders, and to interpret the data that results from the orders. The usual requirement is that a minimum of ten (10) cases be reviewed by a peer. In special circumstances the number may be reduced by action of the Gynecology and Obstetrics Executive Committee.
